PROJECT - 01

ROYAL RESIDENCE

Location:
Riyadh, Saudi Arabia

Area:
3750m²

01

This private residence is one of several high-end residential projects where I led the design team during my time at Yotnegparian Architects.

The project was designed for a member of the Saudi royal family and reflects the firm's approach to contemporary luxury, combining refined materials, precise detailing, and a strong architectural presence.

PROJECT - 02

CONTEMPORARY DESIGN

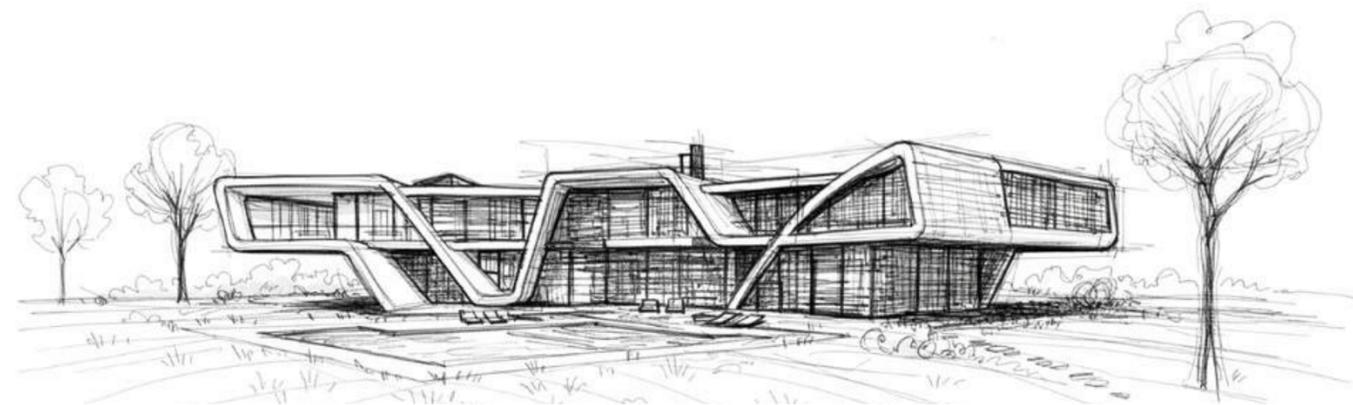

A proposed schematic design of a modern residence in the hillside of Los Angeles. The design emphasizes clean lines and a seamless connection between the indoor and outdoor spaces, capitalizing on its unobstructed panoramic views with expansive glazing.

Location:
Los Angeles, CA

Area:
4,000 SF

PROJECT - 03

A conceptual proposal for a unique architectural design inspired by a flowing ribbon, leading the design team to create a continuous, sculptural form that weaves across the site. The fluid geometry integrates structure, circulation, and space into a single expressive gesture.

A pavilion inspired by the specular reflection of the sun on glistening water.

WATER PAVILION

Designed for a competition, the Water Pavilion was designed to create a space with a sense of calmness and serenity. The concrete structure, a prominent, elongated rectangular volume that cantilevers over a body of water, is contrasted by the skin of the exterior walls.

The intricate, almost biological pattern gives the wall a web-like appearance, inspired by the specular reflection of the sun on the glistening water.

DETAIL EXPLORATION

The images were rendered in black & white to highlight the textures and shadows as well as emphasize the dramatic atmosphere.

I enjoy working on architectural competitions, as they offer creative freedom and the opportunity to explore ideas without conventional constraints.

PRIVATE RESIDENCE

This project is a complete residential remodel commissioned to Yotnegparian Architects. As design lead, I directed the architectural vision and design development, reinterpreting the home with cohesive modifications while preserving the character and proportions of the original structure.
